What does the Board do?

- It represents the agreed ethos, aims and objectives of Parkinson's Europe at a European level.
- It is responsible for ensuring the governance of Parkinson's Europe is maintained and reviewed regularly.
- It provides Parkinson's expertise to a variety of organisations, including the European Medicines Agency (EMA).
- It acts as ambassadors, advocating for positive, proactive dialogue and partnership between all Parkinson's Europe stakeholders, with the goal of improving the lives of people with Parkinson's and their families across Europe.

Over the course of one year, Board members should be able to provide a minimum of 12 days of work for Parkinson's Europe, free of charge. These 12 days will be allocated as follows:

- participation in either face-to-face and our virtual meetings/calls of the Board;
- participation in Members' Meeting and Annual General Assembly;
- time to review papers, e-mails and other documents, as well as to respond to any questions and to provide input to the Board and the Team;
- participating in other support activities, such as attending ad-hoc meetings, joining conference calls or representing Parkinson's Europe at important events if required;
- heading up the implementation of one of Parkinson's Europe's vision, mission and strategic goals.

In light of their additional responsibilities, it is expected that Parkinson's Europe President and Vice-President will have to provide up to three days of work per year, in addition to the above. They will be required to join Executive Committee meetings/calls as and when they need to be held.

It is paramount that Board members attend the Board meetings, as well as the Annual General Assembly, and that they ensure their active presence and collaboration where possible.
